

How much life insurance do you need?

The amount of life insurance you should leave behind depends on your financial position and goals. Your loved ones can use the proceeds from life insurance to maintain their financial wellbeing. Here are some important factors to consider when deciding how much life insurance is right for you.

Mortgage and debt protection

With life insurance, your family can cover outstanding debts and continue to live in the family home.

Education funding

Life insurance is a great way to put a financial Plan in place to make sure your children's education is paid for.

Leaving assets intact for heirs

With life insurance, you can ensure your estate has the liquidity to pay final taxes.

Business continuation

The loss of a key person could create many problems, even threaten the viability of your business. Life insurance can help fund future succession and business continuation plans.

Charitable legacy

Life insurance allows you to leave a lasting legacy for your favourite charity.

Protecting your family's lifestyle

Proper coverage can replace your future income, allowing your loved ones to maintain their standard of living.

Funeral costs

Upon death, life insurance can cover your last expenses, including burial costs.
